Teddy Roosevelt Once Saved Japan

And Won a Prize for It

It is the irony of history (I told Hope Kiwanis club at its luncheon Tuesday in Hotel Henry) that the same United States which first opened up Japan to maritime trade and helped raise her to a world power, and which once saved Japan from extinction in a desperate war, is now called upon to destroy her.

Japanese Bases Are Reported Raided Tuesday

Report Unconfirmed; to Ask Court Martial for Hawaii Attack

NEW YORK — (AP)—Ford Wilkings, CBS correspondent in Manila, reported at 9:12 a. m. (EST) Tuesday that there had been unconfirmed reports of bombings of the Japanese island of Formosa and the cities of Tokyo and Kobe.

The latest announcement of the Japanese defense headquarters in Tokyo as picked up by the Associated Press from a Dornier broadcast said there had been no air attacks on Japanese territory up to Tuesday morning.

Gas Question
LONDON — (AP)—Britain has informed Japan that she will abide strictly by the terms of the poison gas protocol of the 1925 Geneva convention and asked for Japan's assurance that she intends to do the same.

Casualty List
WASHINGTON — (AP)—The War Department published the army's first official casualty list of the war Tuesday, making public the names of 37 army officers and men killed in action in the Japanese attack on Hawaii.

Demand Court Martial
WASHINGTON — (AP)—Rep. Dinwiddie (D-Mich.) told the house Tuesday that he proposed to demand that a court martial proceeding be instituted against high ranking army officers and the commander of the Pacific fleet for "what happened in Hawaii."

35th Suspends Discharges
Announcement Is Made Tuesday by Gen. Ben Lear

WASHINGTON — (AP)—The House swiftly completed congressional action on legislation to hold all navy enlisted men in service for the duration of the war as an intensified drive to build warships faster was announced.

The measure was approved with a record vote. The senate passed the measure Monday.

35th Acts
CAMP ROBINSON — (AP)—Lt. Gen. Ben Lear, commander of the Second Army, Tuesday directed the suspension of discharges from the 35th Division because of age (over 28) or dependencies.

The division has released in recent weeks 2,840 men for these reasons and 350 applications for similar release were pending at the time Tuesday the order was received at division headquarters.

Southern Cross
The "Southern Cross" constellation of stars is visible in the United States only at the southernmost points, but due to the wobbling of the earth's axis, it will, at a future date, be seen as far north as Quebec, Canada.

U. S. Airplanes Begin Search of Pacific

Looting Reported as Seattle Undergoes First Blackout

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP)—The army and navy were on the prowl Tuesday for an enemy aircraft which sent at least two squadrons of planes over industrial plants Monday night and ranging San Francisco Bay without dropping a single bomb.

The thirty odd planes ranged from San Jose at the south tip of the bay to the naval yard at Mare Island, the Fourth Army interceptor commander reported.

The flight caused the first blackout in San Francisco's history. Two others followed in the darkness of early morning but it was not disclosed whether they were enemy planes approaching.

Army interceptor planes followed the circles of the enemy squadrons but were unable to determine where they finally went. The navy then took searching parties for the plane carrier, presumably off the California coast and probably from 500 to 600 miles at sea.

Looting in Seattle
SEATTLE — (AP)—Smashing show windows and looting a crowd of more than 1,000 inforced Seattle's first wartime blackout in defiance of the police Tuesday.

The crowd was completely out of control of the city police and milled through the center of the city's business district for more than an hour. Approximately 30 show windows were smashed.

Nearly all of the displays were looted, some of the merchandise being thrown into the streets and other more valuable pieces being taken.

In all, the main crowd covered 6 city blocks leaving a wake of shattered glass and missing merchandise but not a single window remained.

Scout Sea
SEATTLE — (AP)—Planes at Portland, Oregon, airbase hoped off at 8:15 a. m. Tuesday, the Second Interceptor command announced, to hunt 600 miles of sea for two or three Japanese aircraft carriers and some submarines reported operating off the coast.

General Wash, in charge of Monday night's Pacific coast blackout, ordered all radio stations within a 100 mile radius of Seattle to continue off the air indefinitely and said Seattle would be blacked out again Tuesday night.

Traffic Halted on Highway 4
Hope-Washington Highway Blocked to All Traffic

The Arkansas highway department announced Tuesday that Highway number 4, from Hope to Washington, had been closed to all traffic both day and night.

The announcement was made following a memorandum from W. W. Mitchell, Arkansas highway director at the request of Col. D. C. Cabell, commander of the Southwestern Proving Ground.

The highway separates the Proving Ground from its huge military airport and the step was taken as a precaution against any eventuality.

Toads 6 inches long and 3 inches wide were discovered in South America by Dr. C. W. Parsons, of the University of Glasgow.

Japan Reports Success in Initial Attacks

Wake, Guam Said Captured; Asserts Pacific Seapower Changed

TOKYO — (AP)—(An official broadcast picked up by the Associated Press)—Great initial success and a widening scope and increasing tempo of the Japanese air, land and sea war in the Pacific with the United States and Britain were reported by the Japanese Tuesday.

A navy spokesman declared the Japanese navy already had landed blows which had changed the old balance of American and Japanese seapower as to nullify President Roosevelt's high pressure eastern policy.

The achievement of the Japanese navy it was said "completely shatters all naval strategy of the U. S. naval experts."

The army announced that its bombers had hammered Nichols Field, U. S. base near Manila in the Philippines, in a mass attack which demolished important air facilities.

A ring of Japanese warships which shelled tiny Midway island, a U. S. possession 1,400 miles west of Honolulu, set hangars and fuel stores ablaze Monday, the communique said.

(A Tokyo broadcast heard by CBS said the islands of Guam and Wake, two U. S. stepping stones across the Pacific, were now under the Japanese flag. The broadcast, heard Monday night, did not elaborate.)

The Japanese said they had shot down 9 American planes in attacks on the Wake island Monday and at the same time the imperial headquarters announced that the Japanese air force and land forces began an attack upon the area of Singapore Tuesday.

Two contingents were reported to have completed the occupation of Bangkok, the Thailand capital, under the terms of the new Japanese-Thailand agreement protecting that country against the democracies.

Dornier said that it was understood that both British and Americans in Thailand were now in their country's legations and said that more than 100 Thais including 40 police had been killed Monday night in a British attack on the frontier.

(A Berlin broadcast also said that the Japanese had arrived in central Thailand and from the northern part of that country were already launching an attack to cut the Burma road—presumably by a drive through Burma.)

(The Rome radio also reported a Japanese landing in north Borneo.)

A British communique from Hongkong announced that the Japanese launched an attack upon that stronghold at two places on the land side Monday. The British were hurriedly "demolishing bridges and railroads to hinder the advance."

County Defense Office Planned
Talbot Feild, Jr. Returns From State Meeting at L. R.

The Chairman of the Hempstead County Defense Council, Talbot Feild Jr., conferred in Little Rock Monday with state officers of the Defense Council of Arkansas.

Mr. Feild reports that plans are underway to open up a Civilian Defense Office in every Arkansas county. Through cooperation of the WPA, clerks and secretaries to staff, the county civilian defense headquarters will be certified from the WPA.

Mr. Feild said: "This war is far more serious than most of us realize. That Japan will be ultimately crushed, there is no doubt, but it is likely to require from six months to two years for us to achieve total

President Roosevelt Addresses War Message to Congress---Map of Pacific

Addressing the combined Senate and House of Representatives in the latter's chamber, President Franklin Roosevelt Monday asked that the congress give him an immediate war declaration. Behind the president on the rostrum are Vice-President Henry Wallace, left, and Speaker of the House, Sam Rayburn. Seated at the president's left is his son James, a captain in the Marine Corps.

Assembled in joint session in the House of Representatives in Washington, members of the Senate and the House and the Supreme Court listen as President Roosevelt makes his request for a declaration of war against Japan—which was voted almost unanimously.

Two Air Alarms Electrify East Seaboard Cities

New York Undergoes 2 Alarms as Hull Warns to Be on Lookout

NEW YORK — (AP)—Public Safety officials revealed Tuesday that a series of air raid alerts and alarms which electrified the eastern seaboard were merely rehearsals and that reports of approaching enemy planes were false.

The great Metropolitan area of New York was put on the air raid alert twice within an hour shortly after noon amid varying and unconfirmed reports of an attack by hostile planes.

The second all-clear was sounded at 2:40 p. m.

Hull Warns Nation
WASHINGTON — (AP)—Secretary Hull indicated Tuesday that this country should be on guard against a sudden German move supporting Japan's fulfillment of the Axis tripartite pact.

With specific reference to Japanese air and submarine attacks on Pearl Harbor Hull said that if the national effort to which he referred was put forward "no American need fear the outcome of the attack" which he said was so "outrageously and treacherously undertaken by Japan."

Planes Off Boston
PORTLAND, Maine — (AP)—Authorized sources which did not wish to be named said Tuesday that it was reliably reported that "hostile forces" were en route outside of Boston at 2 p. m. EST.

Single Plane Reported
NEW YORK — (AP)—An air raid alarm sounded in New York city and Suffolk county on Long Island at about 1:25 p. m. EST.

Suffolk county comprising the eastern tip of Long Island called all civilian defenses into action at once. A plane was reported sighted coming in from the Atlantic at Montauk point, at the eastern tip of Long Island.

The alarm sounded one hour and 35 minutes after a report that enemy planes were approaching the city. Earlier in the city's million school children were evacuated and the area defenses were placed on the alert.

Warned From Washington
NEW YORK — (AP)—An "official warning from Washington" that hostile planes were reported two hours out of New York City was received Tuesday at Mitchell Field, Long Island where the first air force is stationed. Mitchell field was placed on the alert.

Hardy Rowland Shot Tuesday Newspaper Columnist Wounded in Night Spot

LITTLE ROCK — (AP)—Hardy (Spider) Rowland, 40, Little Rock newspaper columnist and former night club operator, was shot and wounded in a shooting fray early Tuesday at a night club on Highway 70 near North Little Rock.

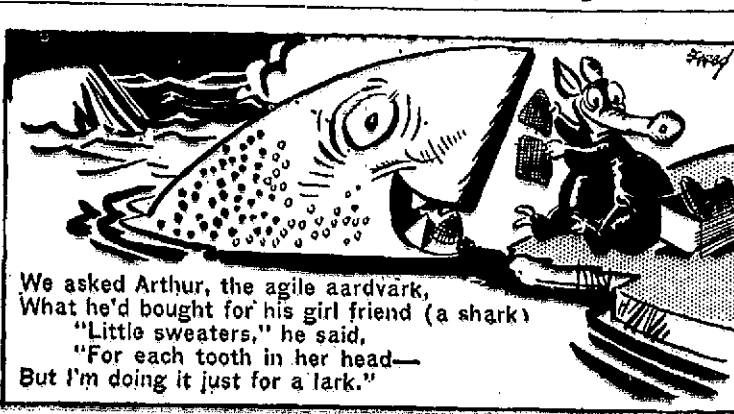

Attendants at the hospital said they held little hope that he would recover. State policemen said they were detaining without charge the owner of the night club where the shooting occurred, pending further questioning and the outcome of his injury.

Soldier Slang

Army slang has been blitz-krieged by the modern generation of soldiers, and the following terms are now heard frequently around camps and maneuvers grounds. How may you translate?

1. Bubble dancing, blind flying.
2. Armored cow, Chicago atomizer, motorized freckles.
3. Flying boxcar, night bomber, shack man.
4. Glamor boy, zombie, gravel agitator are names for soldiers. What types do they identify?
5. Cross-bar hotel, slum burner, windjammer.

Press Pages of Government

Editors Cull Hand-Outs From Different Agencies

By JACK SINNETT
WASHINGTON — Just how many thousands of pages of "hand-outs" pour from government press relations agencies weekly is anybody's guess. The news men, for the most part, thumb through these reams of dullness, cull them down to the few essentials and pass them on.

Generally, it's pretty tedious, routine work because government press agents discovered a long time ago that they can't take journalistic liberties with press releases whose jobs hang on public opinion or at least the opinion of their immediate superiors who in turn, must take their raps from the people who cast the votes.

Occasionally, however, some subject comes along that gives the government writer his golden opportunity and it is one such that I wish to record here—a lyrical journalistic gem (no pun) about "diamonds for defense" that came out of Nelson Rockefeller's office for inter-American affairs. In the sub-heading, the Rockefeller boys tipped their hand with the information that "South America's Diamond Bullets Aid Democracy's Arsenal."

For there on, it was touch-and-go. The release started: "Diamonds—precious jeweled facets of imprisoned sunlight. Pretty beauties which have inspired prince and pauper, king and commoner, beguiling to lovers and coveted by thieves, now take an important place next to battleships, tanks and factories in the gigantic military and industrial effort to forge the weapons of defense for the Americas. Prismatic facets with the latent power of a smoldering volcano. Power to create a Niagara of arms in defense of democracy."

If you are still along, set a spell and get your breath. That sort of thing goes on for 14 double-spaced pages.

It points out that "this amazing jewel—part of the plasma of earth's creation—has done over a century of democratic ally against the aggressive intentions of totalitarian powers aiming to dominate a world economic hegemony by force of arms."

That kind of verbiage is enough to stop even the most enthusiastic of the government report thumblers but as isn't always the case in these releases by any means, this one carried a reward for patience. Tucked away among those precious adjectives and over-ripe phrases was some pretty hot stuff about industrial diamonds.

For example, the Dutch and Belgian merchants, fleeing their native lands before the Nazi invasion, carried nearly all their diamonds with them and the Axis powers are so short on industrial diamonds today that they are cutting up gem stones to use in the drills and cutters of war industries.

Only a few weeks ago, FBI agents arrested three Japanese merchants and charged them with trying to sneak out of the country with $50,000 worth of industrial diamonds.

The Italian government maintains its only existing South Atlantic airline (L. A. T. L., flying from Brazil to Italy) with a major purpose of transporting this valuable light-weight cargo for use in Axis war machines.

The United States imports three-fourths of a ton (3,800,000 carats) of industrial diamonds a year now, about with the skin that feels like a real baby's.

There's a microscope using polaroid light. There's an electric train that increases its noise as it increases its speed. And a water tank that gurgles by the side of the track.

The small autos boys and girls like so much are miniatures of big station wagons, army trucks, police cars, racers and wreckers.

Farm toys are more popular than they've been for years. Model communities come in all sizes. There's a lumber yard, as complete a building kit as I've seen.

Almost any hobby at your house will find something newer and better to fit it—games, tool chests, model-making, handcraft. There are new albums for stamp collectors.

In toy animals there's a long-legged calf besides a cow that mooes and a bull that bellows. There is even a lion that growls.

Harrison in Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON, NEA Service Correspondent

Why Movie Office Boys Like Work

By RALPH STACK
Studio office boy, pinch-hitting for vacationing Paul Harrison
HOLLYWOOD — "Be nice to the studio office boys because they may be your bosses of tomorrow," so goes an old Hollywood saying. But I would rather not believe that's the only reason people around the lot are always plugging for office boys.

I recently returned from serving eight months in the Army. Before I left, Dorothy Lamour gave me a traveling bag and had a picture made kissing me goodbye. Believe me, that picture certainly put me in good with the fellows at camp.

We're pretty luck office boys. Bob Hope often comes over to our office and reads us his new radio show. He likes to get reactions from the boys because he says we tell him the truth.

Susanna Foster called all of the boys out to the stage when she recorded her songs for "Glamour Boy." Susanna is very frank herself and likes other people to be the same. We are probably her closest friends simply because we treat her as one of the gang rather than as a movie actress.

See the Stars
Much of our work brings us in personal contact with the stars. We do a lot of errands for them and soon get to know them very well. Stars like Claudette Colbert, Bing Crosby, Madeleine Carroll and other top names get a great deal of attention, but the other day a secretary in the publicity department received just as much service as any of them. Her name is Ella Boros and for seven years she has been a secretary at Paramount.

After refusing several screen tests, Ella accepted a role in "Torpedo Boat" and you would have thought she was Mrs. Roosevelt making a screen debut. Jean Parker gave Ella her star dressing room to use that day. Richard Arlean gave her a set chair with her name on it, and others sent flowers or other gifts. I must have delivered 30 telegrams to her on the set.

Ella doesn't want to give up her job as a secretary, but after the producers saw the picture, they liked her so much she has been given another role in "I'll Be Back in a Flash." Here's a funny thing about it: Ella, a secretary in real life, will have a role of a showgirl, and Alice White, who was a big star several years back playing showgirl roles, will play the part of a secretary.

Up They Go
Many of Hollywood's outstanding executives started as office boys. Merwyn Le Roy was once Mr. De Mille's office boy. Director William Wellman started that way also. Only a few years ago, Stanley Rubin was in our department, telling the fellows he wanted to be a writer. Now he has his own office in the writers' building and has quite a few screen credits.

Many of our former boys are now in important positions in the production end, the publicity department, the casting offices. Some are cutters, business managers, directors, and others have varied positions.

So you see, if we don't get ahead, it's our own fault.

In Ararat township, Pennsylvania, schools are closed during the worst winter months. Will the pupils please rise and sing, "Snow, Beautiful Snow."

An epidemic of mumps has hit Fort Custer. Now we'll see how well our new army can take the bumps.

British Make Shipwreck Comfortable

LONDON —(P)—"Luxury lifeboats" are the latest creation of the British to save lives and avert suffering for seamen torpedoed in the Battle of the Atlantic.

Standard lifeboat rations for a hundred years have been water, biscuit and bully beef. Usually the amount of water was so small the seamen could not get enough to eat the salty beef and dry biscuit. The result was that hundreds of seamen died in the first two years of the war while trying to reach land in under-provisioned boats.

Here is what the "luxury lifeboats" being supplied the merchant marine carry: Enough water to supply each of 46 men with 8 oz. a day for two weeks; 14 pounds each of prunes, raisins and large quantities of chocolate to take the place of biscuits, meat extracts, and malted milk; life-jackets fitted with watertight pockets containing concentrated food and vitamin C; towels, first aid kit, splints, blankets, boat repair outfit, massage oil, bailing dippers, compass, flares, matches and charts.

New Airports in 48 Hours

One Constructed in South in Exactly 11 Days

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — It takes weeks to build an ordinary all-weather airport, even working large crews night and day. But Army Air Corps officers in Washington, on the basis of experience they have just witnessed in North Carolina, are talking about building all-weather ports in two days that will take everything from a 65 horsepower grasshopper to a 5,000 horsepower B-24.

This is not an accomplished feat but it's on its way. In North Carolina, the Army aviation engineers (which are young as our parachute troops) in so far as a separate command is concerned, recently put down their first portable landing field in 11 days.

It was the so-called Marston mat—more than a thousand tons of perforated steel plates, 10 feet long, 15 inches wide and an eighth of an inch thick, that lock together into a solid runway 150 feet wide and 3,000 feet long. In the following days and nights, Army pilots took off and landed practically every type of plane the Army uses on that runway and walked off singing its praises.

The same engineers that laid that runway are saying now that in time they will have one of equal strength and size that will weigh less than 400 tons and can be laid on fairly level terrain in two days.

Anybody who thought that Maj. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the Army Air Corps, finished his inspection with the enthusiastic declaration that it was the year's greatest achievement in aviation.

The pilots who took off and landed on the mat had this to say: that it was less slippery in wet weather than the surfacing used on permanent airport runways; that because of the 1/8-inch perforations, the brakes took hold much more quickly; and that there is less wear on rubber tires.

The advantage of such a portable, rapid construction, airport hardly needs explaining. The conception of an air force operating in all kinds of weather is as new as this war. That means solid surface landing areas, it is no trouble for a plane to keep up with mechanized divisions operating at great speed—but until the portable landing field appeared, there was no solution to the problem keeping all-weather airfields close enough to the rapidly moving lines to operate with maximum effect against enemy air operations from established ports.

One air observer here says that if the Army had had such movable airfields in Russia, the story of their advance might have been far different. He points to the report that even though they captured one airfield after another in Holland, Belgium and France, their need for others to keep up with the rapid advance led them to try roping off strips of highway and using these for emergency landing fields. This plan had to be abandoned as unsuccessful but it demonstrated one flaw in an almost perfect military machine.

Although the North Carolina demonstration was the first use of the new mat landing field that the public has been let in on, it is known now that tests are being made with them in overseas bases.

Because it is a simple matter to roll and stamp the plates, even with their perforations and interlocking keys, it would be no problem to produce them in quantities. Since damaged portions can be easily and quickly replaced, some experts are predicting that they might be used instead of concrete on permanent runways.

Even General Arnold has posed the possibility of their use in commercial aviation. But that is something that will have to wait on peace and the passing of priorities.

MOVIE STAR JOINS U.S. NAVY

Ensign Wayne Morris Seeks Wings

Wayne Morris, recent star of "I Wanted Wings," became a member of Uncle Sam's Navy in May, 1941, when he was appointed to the rank of Ensign.

When asked what he thought of the United States Navy, Morris said, "I think every man who is considering joining a military service should look into the 'chance of a lifetime' which the Navy and Naval Reserve offer to get into the big-pay field of the future—aviation. In the Navy you can attend the finest flight training schools in the world, and receive instruction from Navy pilots who introduced dive bombing, aircraft carriers and catapult take-offs to the rest of the world. Also, there are opportunities in Naval Aviation for men who don't want to fly. They can be trained as aviation machinists, metallurgists, photographers, observers, or they can receive instruction in many other trades. It's a great life in the Navy."

Large Christmas Seal Sales

First Week Sales Exceeds Total of Whole Year

First week receipts for the Christmas Seal Sales in Hempstead exceeds total sales in any previous year for the past ten years, the county chairman announced Monday. The county quota is $1,250.

The chairman indicated that hundreds of letters containing seals would be mailed out this week and urged that all citizens use them on letters. The largest amount raised in the past ten years was in 1937 with a total of $308, the Rev. J. E. Hamill, chairman announced.

Seal sales in the Hope schools began last Friday and prospects there were also bright for a large increase.

We, the Women

It's Mistaken Martyrdom To Be Household Drudge

By RUTH MILLETT

There are communities where there is special glory attached to a housewife who does all her own work—whether it is necessary or not. Therefore, the woman who could manage to hire someone to help her out—at least with her laundry and heavy cleaning—shuns the idea and cooks and cleans and washes and takes care of her family without a bit of help from anyone.

But if she could get a real good look at herself she wouldn't be so prone to put herself on the back. In fact, she might even admit that she's a bit of a dope.

For there's no getting around it, the woman who works hard over a period of years shows it. She grows old faster than the woman who saves herself as much back-breaking work as she can. And she hasn't as much time to spend on herself, concealing the signs of age, as the woman who manages to have a little leisure.

Furthermore she doesn't get a chance really to enjoy her family like the woman who takes life as easy as she can. She is always too busy feeding them and picking up after them and laundering their clothes to sit down and enjoy their jokes and their companionship.

She is likely to lose out on the opportunity of companionship with her husband, too. For if she prides herself on doing all the work connected with a house and family, and doing it well, she can't say "Yes" to his sudden invitations to go for a ride or join in a game of golf. There are too many jobs waiting to be done.

Worshipping Work Is Often Perilous

And then, too, when a woman makes a god of work and thinks there is something noble about killing herself for her family, she becomes less and less of a human who is fun to have around, and more and more of a grim-faced drudge, quick to criticize the woman who manages to get out of a much drudgery as they can.

A woman deserves respect who can not afford to have any help in keeping her family clothed and fed and their home shining—and who does the job well all by herself.

But the woman who refuses any help just feel noble isn't very bright. If she were, she would find a better way to justify her existence than pretending that no one can scrub a floor or iron a shirt to please her.

STAMP NEWS

SIR WILFRED THOMSON
GRENFELL, noted English missionary doctor who carried on his humanitarian work for nearly 50 years in Labrador and Newfoundland, will be honored philatellically.

Newfoundland will issue the commemorative stamp, a 5-cent violet brown, Dec. 1. The design pictures Sir Wilfred on his steamship Strathcona II with an iceberg and a schooner in the background. Sir Wilfred died last year at the age of 75.

A course in the fundamentals of philately will be taught at Washington University in St. Louis. J. Edward Vining, president of the Society of Philatelic Americans, will lecture on watermarks, perforations, colors, postmarks, forgeries, mountings, and other basic instruction.

British philatelists plan to raise more than $50,000 for the Red Cross agencies from Dec. 30 through Jan. 1. They will auction rare pieces donated by British collectors.

Famous Americans, including Wendell L. Willkie, Admiral Richard E. Byrd, James A. Farley, Adolph Menjou, Ginger Rogers, and New York's Mayor LaGuardia, have contributed philatelic material for the National Patriotic Auction for Britain's air raid victims. The auction is sponsored by the Canadian Philatelic Society and will be held in Toronto Nov. 21 and 22.

Switzerland's anti-tuberculosis semi-postals, issued each Christmas "Pro Juventute" (For Youth), will this year honor a poet and a master watchmaker.

A 5-centimes plus 5c green picture Johann Kaspar Lavater, poet, theologian, and mystic born in 1741. A 30c plus 10c blue and light blue will present Daniel Jean Richard, called the "father" of the Swiss watch industry. Richard died in 1741. Both stamps are bi-centenary commemoratives.

Mind Your Manners

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Should a young man who is dating a girl ask her what she wants for Christmas?
2. Should a girl who has had only a few dates with a boy feel embarrassed if he gives her a Christmas gift and she has nothing for him?

3. Should a girl write an endorsement on the photograph of herself she gives a young man?
4. If a friend obviously has spent more on your Christmas present than you have on his should you apologize for your gift?

5. When sending a Christmas card to a friend with whom you do not keep in close touch is it a good idea to put your address on the envelope?

What would you do if—
You and your husband are having Christmas cards engraved with your full names, as "Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Smith?"

(a) Have the name precede the message as, "Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Smith wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."
(b) Have the names follow the message as "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, Mr. and Mrs. John Robert Smith?"

Answers
1. No.
2. No.
3. No.
4. No.
5. Yes. So as to let the friend know your address.

2. No. It isn't necessary in that case for her to give him anything.

Axis Aliens Doing All Right in Detention Camps

WASHINGTON — Leading the life of Reilly, except for lack of liquor and the little matter of going where they please, such is the sad fate of nearly 2000 Italians and Germans in detention camps under control of the Immigration and Naturalization Service of the Department of Justice.

These camps are sometimes erroneously referred to as concentration camps, bringing up visions of the horror places established by the Nazis and Fascists. Ours are nothing of the sort. The men detained in them are not criminals, but are persons who cannot be sent out of the country because of the war.

One of these camps is Fort Missoula, three miles from Missoula, Mont. The second is at Fort Lincoln, N. D. The service also operates a third one at Fort Stanton, N. M.

The Fort Lincoln Camp holds at present about 275 German sailors, chiefly of German boats sabotaged by order from Berlin. The actual saboteurs are criminals and treated as such. The seamen who had nothing to do with the sabotage are the ones who are sent to Fort Lincoln.

In addition there are some seamen who formerly worked on Standard Oil tankers.

The biggest camp is at Fort Missoula, where there are nearly 1000 Italian seamen. In addition, there are Italians who came to the World's Fair in New York on limited visas and who violated the law by overstaying their time.

Fascist Fake Exposed

The biggest single batch came from a ship that was not sabotaged. It was the Italian luxury liner Conte Biancamano, which lingered too long in the Panama Canal. It was concerning this camp that the Fascist press of Italy printed the statement that the Italians detained there were suffering all kinds of hardships.

Italian language newspaper, Il Progresso of New York City, investigated and printed a complete refutation.

This camp, on the old Fort Missoula Army reservation, occupies about two-thirds of the area. It has a space 300 by 900 feet and is being increased to 900 by 1500 feet. It is enclosed by a 10-foot steel mesh fence topped with four strands of barbed wire. There is only one entrance gate and it is brilliantly lighted at night.

Enclosed are four two-story barracks. The area is enlarged, it will enclose a mess hall, laundry, and bakery, and work has been started on 15 additional barracks, each with 46 beds.

There is no censorship of mail. The men work and play under their own discipline. When the first group came, they were told to set up their own system of internal discipline and punishment. They held an election and chose as their camp commandant Fursur De Luca of the Biancamano.

The inmates divide the necessary jobs, do their own cooking, dish washing, furnace stoking and clothes washing. They make up their own menus.

Breaches of camp discipline are tried by a council of six, of whom one is a member of the Immigration Service, but who does not vote. This council makes recommendations for punishment which may or may not be carried out by the Immigration Service. Punishments for things that are not criminal are withdrawal of various privileges, or from one to 30 days in the guardhouse, or one to 30 days in the county jail for more serious offenses that do not require state jury trial.

The inmates get the same rations as are given to the boys in C. C. C. camps and to the Army.

Sounds Country Clubby

In September, 1940, the seamen of the German liner Columbus scuttled their ship in the Atlantic, east of Florida. As it was not in American waters, the 400 rescued seamen were not guilty of infraction of American laws. They, therefore, had under international law the status of "distressed seamen" and were given haven. For a while they were near San Francisco, but the Army objected to their proximity.

The captain of the Columbus, accompanied by a government officer, then chose an abandoned C. C. C. camp at Fort Stanton in New Mexico. There is no detention fence around this place. The men, with the money they got from the German government, painted the houses, built a tennis court and swimming pool and made themselves generally comfortable.

When Uncle Sam froze German monetary assets, the Nazi government could no longer finance them. Now the cost of their keep is being paid by the Department of Justice. Like the Germans and Italians in the other two camps, they have the status of men who should be deported but can not be because of wartime conditions.

IT'S GOOD TO KNOW ON CHRISTMAS DAY, IT'S PAID FOR!

You're in for a treat when you serve baked beans the KARO way!

To add new flavor and zest to that old favorite dish—baked beans—try this simple recipe. Watch your family "perk up" and call for more!

BAKED BEANS, KARO STYLE

2 cans baked beans (12 oz. cans)
2 tsp. chopped onion
2 slices chopped cooked bacon
1/2 cup Karo (blue label)
6 tsp. strained canned tomato

Combine all ingredients, and mix thoroughly. Turn into a greased baking dish or casserole, and bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Makes 4 generous servings.

Remember—Karo Syrup adds food value and flavor to all cooked dishes—'cause Karo is rich in DEXTROSE, too—energy sugar.
